N. Y. HARBOR MYSTERY.

Policeman Finds Naked Body of Man in the Bay.

New York, June 20.—The naked body of a man was found floating near Governor's Island by Policeman Gardner Dunham of the harbor squad yesterday morning, and as there are evidences that the man had been killed, the police believe they have a murder mystery to unravel. The body was taken to Pier A, North River, and later removed to the morgue. Examination showed a fracture of the right leg and there are stab wounds in the chest and abdomen. The only clue the police have which may lead to the identification of the man are the letters "O. C. T." tattooed on the left arm.

The body is that of a man about forty years of age, five feet four inches in height and weighed about 125 pounds. He had brown hair and red moustache.
